A church member complained to the preacher about such high pay for only one hour of work on Sunday morning.

The preacher explained, “this reminds me of the farmer who took a load of wheat to the elevator. The cashier grumbled, “A lot of pay for such little work.” “That wasn’t all the work”, replied the farmer, “I was just unloading.” Now that describes my preaching; it isn’t all the work I do – I’m just unloading. This and That

Thanksgiving Day is a harvest festival celebrated primarily in the United States and Canada. Thanksgiving was a holiday to express thankfulness, gratitude, and appreciation to God, family and friends for which all have been blessed of material possessions and relationships. Traditionally, it has been a time to give thanks for a bountiful harvest. The precise historical origin of the holiday is disputed. Although Americans commonly believe that the first Thanksgiving happened in 1621, at Plymouth Plantation, in Massachusetts..... (Wikipedia)

Thanksgiving Day will be this Thursday. It is a day in which we express our thanks for earth's blessings. As described above, it began as a religious holiday, one in which appreciation was given to God as well as to others. Growing up we always had a dinner together at home. We were thankful for the blessings of another year. It was a time for family and friends to get together and share company and food. After Daisy and I got married we continued to visit both our parent's homes for Thanksgiving Day. It is my favorite holiday of the year. Here are some of the things I am thankful for this year,

The church here at Clay City continues to be sound in the faith. We meet together each Sunday and Wednesday for worship services to glorify our God and His Son Jesus Christ. Our fellowship is sweet. And, our family is about to grow again next year with another McCoy child. Donald is improving, Reva is doing well, Corrine is improving, Ellaray is doing well, Mrs. Vires continues to go strong. Mack is still able to get around and minister in the many ways he does. Carol has come to worship with us this year. Mac and Crystal have started the Youth Groups which provides opportunities for our youth to get together in a Christian environment to enjoy each other's fellowship. We were spared when the city flooded. Only our parking lot was covered with the water. I'm sure I am forgetting something, but this shows the many ways in which we have been blessed.

My wife and kids are well. We also welcomed a grandson to our family this year. Nathan James Coffey came into the world August 2. I had an opportunity to preach at Fairfax, Campton, Stanton, as well as my regular speaking engagements at Clay City and Bowen this past year. For what are you thankful? Think about it.
