A Teacher’s Prayer

Dear Lord, I do not ask that You should give me some high work to do, some noble calling, or wondrous task. Just give me a little child to point in the way over the straight, sweet path that leads to You. Give me a little voice to teach and to pray. Give me two shining eyes Your face to see. The only crown I ask to wear, dear Lord, is this: that I may teach a little child. I only ask that softly, hand in hand, a child and I may enter at the gate..... Author Unknown

This and That

Have you ever wanted to help teach someone about Jesus or comfort a Christian in distress, just to discover you lack the resources to do something worthwhile? I would like for you to consider how many tools we can choose from versus those available to the New Testament Apostles. Just think:

- John attracted multitudes in the wilderness... without computer generated fliers, radio or television.
- Jesus preached to 5,000 men plus women and children at one time...without a Public Address System.
- Peter traveled to Caesarea from Joppa to convert the Gentiles...without an automobile.
- Paul made at least 3 missionary journeys, totaling thousands of miles to establish congregations...without an airplane.
- Peter and John went to the temple to worship God and teach Jews the Gospel...without any money.
- Paul communicated with Timothy and Titus while separated by a great distance...without a cell phone.
- The Bible was written and preserved for over 3,500 years ...without a modern pen, paper, or computer.

Are we taking advantage of these tools to spread New Testament Christianity?
