1 Timothy 3:2-7 (NKJV) <sup>2</sup> A bishop then must be blameless, the husband of one wife, temperate, sober-minded, of good behavior, hospitable, able to teach; <sup>3</sup> not given to wine, not violent, not greedy for money, but gentle, not quarrelsome, not covetous; <sup>4</sup> one who rules his own house well, having his children in submission with all reverence <sup>5</sup> (for if a man does not know how to rule his own house, how will he take care of the church of God?); <sup>6</sup> not a novice, lest being puffed up with pride he fall into the same condemnation as the devil. <sup>7</sup> Moreover he must have a good testimony among those who are outside, lest he fall into reproach and the snare of the devil.

As you may know, the church here at Clay City is in the process of identifying and installing qualified men to be Elders. During the most recent business meeting the following plan was agreed to:

- During the month of January there will be sermons and lessons delivered from the pulpit regarding elders
- The first two weeks of February (Feb. 1 through Feb. 14) nominations will be accepted from the entire membership.
- Afterward, those nominated will be interviewed by a group of elders from another congregation, led by Jack Hall of the Richmond congregation. This will take place from February 15th through March 16th. Recommendations will be made by this group to the church at Clay City.
- During the remainder of March (March 17th through March 31st), a time will be set aside for installations of Elders.

We ask that everyone be in prayer about this great undertaking. It will take all of us working together to have elders as God would have us to.

Developing the Elders of Tomorrow: Roger Shepherd

The most significant work in the world is being an elder of the Lord's church. Paul, a church planter, called it "a fine work" for one whose heart's desire is to be a leader of God's people (1 Timothy 3:1 NASB) ÷ Shepherding seeks to transform the people of God into servants of Christ.

I posed the question "What is Leadership?" to several groups of people from the young men in future-preacher training camps to senior adults at church, and the following answers were the most common: (1) a leader is a man who leads. He is in front or the head of a team. (2) a leader is a man who has a following. A leader without a following is only taking a walk. (3) a leader is a man guiding or directing the service if others. (4) a leader is a principal player of an organization or team. He is in front of the team showing the way to work. (5) a leader is a person of determination and action. (6) a leader is a person with vision and a mission. (7) a leader is one with goals. (8) a leader is one who trains others to take his place. So how can these men be developed today?

Most people do not want to be managed. They want a spiritual leader, not a manager. Therefore, people desire shepherding to develop spiritually. Leadership is not the ability to achieve a position. Those who work toward a position, rank, or title, upon arrival, only think they have become a leader, experience the frustration of a few followers, and never develop their leadership skills.

A leader is not a boss. It does not take much skill to be a boss. It takes skill, personality, character, and servanthood to be an effective leader. The church must begin developing spiritual men early in life.

In my experience with ministry and training young men, the church has a lack of spiritual leaders for two reasons. First, very few men desire the work of an elder or church leader...

Second, the church has not developed men in regard to the quality of character and the ability required to do the work...

In respect to the ability to lead, one must have at least four qualifications: (1) the ability to shepherd, feed, and care for the church; (2) the ability to teach; (3) children who are believers; and (4) the ability to delegate the cares or things of others to other leaders such as deacons. The church must return to the Bible for the proper leadership model.
