Children can have no better inheritance than believing parents. Religion can become real in the midst of the family as in no other way. Many of us have inherited great riches from our parents – the bank account of their personal faith and family prayers.

*Before I made you in your mother's womb, I chose you.
(Jeremiah 1:5).*

"I praise You because you made me in an amazing and wonderful way. What You have done is wonderful. I know this very well. You saw my bones being formed as I took shape in my mother's body. When I was put together there, You saw my body as it was formed. All the days planned for me were written in your book before I was one day old." Psalm 139:14-16

"I have no greater joy than to hear that my children walk in truth."

3 John 4

FAITH IS...

Reading the good between the lines

*"You know in all your hearts and in all your souls that not one thing has failed of all the good things which the Lord your God spoke."
Joshua 23:14*

"Reading between the lines" is something we all do. It's like "putting two and two together," a mental activity in which everyone engages. The difference between the person who's living by faith and the negative-thinking person is that the pessimist reads only bad news between the lines where the optimist reads good news.

Two birds—a vulture and a hummingbird—fly over the California desert. One sees a rotting carcass; the other, a fragrant flower. Each sees what it looks for!

If you are a believer and have received guidance from God Himself, you don't blind yourself to upcoming problems; but you do keep your eye on the possibilities! You never allow problems to overpower the possibilities.

The truth is you can always read either good or bad between the lines. There is something negative and something positive in every person, proposal, and project.

The most fantastic idea contains the seeds of problems as well as the seeds of possibilities!

Both success and failure exist in every project. Your vote can go either way, but you cast the deciding vote and determine the destiny positively when you choose to read the good instead of the bad.

Here is a powerful truth: What you see is what you will be. Our firmly focused imaginations tend to become self-fulfilling prophecies. The vulture finds a carcass, while the hummingbird finds honey in a flower half-hidden in a cactus behind barren roots.

God's Word tells us to believe the best in the worst of times. Question:
Are you practicing positive thinking or negative thinking today?

Prayer is the key to heaven, but faith opens the door.
